CORNERSTONE RELICS EXPOSED AND EXAMINED, TO BE SEALED AGAIN

Documents which have been lying for nearly twenty years in the corner stone box of the old Y. M. C. A. building were exposed to light last evening at the Commercial club, and examined by a number of longstanding members of the association, many of them men who were present when the box was sealed in 1882.

A dinner was given to the "Old Guard," as the original members of the local association are called, and much satisfaction they took in recalling the ambitious plans for the building in 1882 and realizing that in twenty years the association has far outgrown the building then deemed a great achievement.

R. H. Trent, president of the Honolulu Y. M. C. A., presided at the dinner. On his right was United States Judge Sanford B. Dole and on his left T. Clive Davies. Others present were W. A. Bowen, W. R. Castle, W. C. Weedon, Robert Lewers, B. F. Dillingham, Frank Damon, J. Mort Oat, Dr. N. B. Emerson, A. F. Cooke, F. J. Lowrey, Captain Bray, Charles Atherton, Frank Atherton, Ed. Towse, R. B. Anderson, Harold Dillingham, W. T. Schmidt, R. J. Pratt, E. O. White, Walter G. Smith (for the Star), A. P. Taylor (for the Advertiser), G. S. Waterhouse, W. G. Hall, Paul Super (secretary), R. N. Anderson, Dr. J. M. Whitney and Doctor Hand.

The box rested on a table between the dinner tables, where all could see the removal of the contents.

W. A. Bowen read from the secretary's record of 1882 the list of contents of the box. T. Clive Davies then took the box, the cover of which had been loosened during the afternoon, but not removed.

THE CONTENTS.

The list of articles removed, in their order as brought forth by Mr. Davies, follows:

Hawaiian Guide Book, by H. M. Whitney; Most Essential Points in Hawaiian Grammar; Daily Bulletin, Carson Kenyon, editor; John Nott's bill head; Hawaiian Testament; English Bible; photographs of A. F. Judd, chief justice of supreme court; portraits of Kalakaua and Kapiolani (one by Montano); Kawaiahao Church (photograph); list of contributors to Y. M. C. A. building; rules of Kawaiahao Church; Hawaiian Almanac for 1882; Hawaiian Gazette, Sept. 27, 1882; Chinese Y. M. C. A. rules; postcards and Hawaiian issues of stamps; The Friend, September 1, 1882; annual report of Woman's Board of Missions; Fort street manual; annual report Mission Children's Society; Seamen's Chapel (photograph); Kawaiahao Seminary circular; $100 Hawaiian Government 9 per cent bond (blank); Star of the Morning, Hawaiian Song Book; Kuokou, September 23, 1882; Young Men's Mission, address by Rev. L. Smith; by-laws and charter Y. M. C. A. and list of members; program of exercises for laying of cornerstone of Y. M. C. A., September 28, 1882; Hawaii Paalana; Saturday Press; biennial report of Minister of Interior; biennial report of chief justice supreme court; eighteenth annual report Hawaiian Evangelical Association; census Hawaiian Islands, December 27, 1878; report of board of education; waterworks report; Planters' Monthly; American dollar, discolored by copper box; package containing Pacific Commercial Advertiser, addressed to the cornerstone committee of the Y. M. C. A., dated September 27, 1882, P. H. Hayselden, manager of The Advertiser.

The contents were replaced and the box was sealed temporarily, for the box and contents are to be added to the new cornerstone to be placed tomorrow afternoon.

One of the interesting papers in the new box will be a list of the persons at last night's dinner, each one subscribing his own signature.

Several of those present made addresses reminiscent of the early Y. M. C. A. days in Honolulu. Judge Dole told of the work of organization, referring to the sectarian difficulties encountered in 1882. He said it had been hard to avoid giving a denominational basis to the new religious society, but the founders had solved the problem. T. Clive Davies recalled some of the boys of 1882 who were earliest on the roll of members and who, like himself, were now business men in Honolulu. W. R. Castle, another old time supporter of the Y. M. C. A., gave recollections of the days when the old building, now to be given up, was a new enterprise. W. C. Weedon recalled his own first affiliation with the Y. M. C. A. He joined in London, in the earliest days of the organization.

AT THE THEATERS

GLADSTONES WILL BE IN DAILY MATINEES.

The Gladstone Sisters reappearing at the Empire theater last night were given an ovation. The popular sisters have lost nothing of their art in an absence on the other islands. They are here for just a week.

In order that the young people of the city may have an opportunity to see the sisters for the last time the management of the Empire is giving matinees every day in the week, commencing this afternoon. There will be the regular features on the program, but the management is particularly featuring the Gladstone Sisters, acrobatic dancers.

The Musical Bentleys last night scored their usual success with new selections on the Marimba xylophone; Crawford and Meeker were funnier than ever and George Stanley was excellent in new ballads.

NOT ENOUGH ROOM FOR SAVOY AUDIENCE.

Crowds were turned away from the Savoy theater last night. It was one of the biggest nights in the history of the playhouse, and the "S. O. sign was out early. The crowds came early and stayed late, mainly on account of the Doric Trio, which is making a great reputation as a singing trio. Their selections have caught on and Honolulu is flocking nightly to hear them. They are in magnificent voice.

Dolliver and Rogers, the pretty little dancers, are also making a big reputation with their dancing and singing, and their pretty costumes add to the pleasing impression they make.

The Laredos are putting on the best bill of their repertoire, combining all their feats of contortion.

Tonight will also be a big night, as it is the night for amateurs. For fun see this amateur group.

PARK ALL GOOD.

The Park theater's attractions this week are good, as shown by the performance last evening. Each member of the company put on a new act or feature. The program ran off smoothly, and applause was evenly divided.

Winsome Winnie Baldwin's songs were catchy, well suited to her voice, and her stage presence was all that could be desired.

The Le Marest Brothers introduced new novelties in their musical act, but the topsy-turvy piano playing by one of the team was continued. In fact the very oddity of this one performance makes it the feature of their act. Standing on his head, a member of the team plays the piano and plays it well.

Harding and Wasson continued with new songs of their own composition, and danced new steps. There were excellent films.

BIJOU'S STRONG CARD.

One of the strongest and longest programs present at the string of theaters is that at the Bijou. The theater is big, the orchestra is big, and it is a house where big things are expected.

The new program took well last night. Carroll, the "boy with the educated feet," produced a new series of foot tapping which caught the house. Carroll does a longer foot-tapping stunt than most dancers.

Hasson Ben Abdic, as the human vise, in feats of strength, Cnechia Carranza in dances, songs and quick changes of costumes were in line at the head of the program; Burke and Burke put on a laughable sketch; Richard Kipling sang a rattling good illustrated song, and Jones and Greiner with drolleries were good. The films were well selected, and the orchestral selections were up to the high standard set by their leader, Amateur night Friday.

T. H. Davies & Co., yesterday received a cablegram announcing the death in London, on Sunday, January 29, at Woolton Grove, Gateacre, near Liverpool, England, of Domitila Rodrigues, widow of the late R. C. Janlon, of Liverpool and Honolulu. R. C. Janlon was one of the leading merchants in Honolulu at the time of the arrival of the late Theo. H. Davies, in 1857.
